U.S. Citizen in Havana Goes to Trial Today as Spy

HAVANA, April 8 (UPI)— Frank Emmick, a United States citizen and president of the American Club here, will go on trial before a revolutionary tribunal tomorrow on charges of espionage, it was announced today.

At the time of his arrest four months ago, Cuban Government officials charged he was an operative of the Central Intelligence Agency and head of a spy ring based at Parada Beach.

He was in the frog-legs export business here before the Castro revolution, and continued to live here after most of the United States colony departed. The American Club is a fraternal organization that now has only a few members, most of them Cuban businessmen.

The trial has been postponed several times.
